DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-26, 40 and 42-50 are currently pending in the application and are addressed herein.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-13, 40 and 42-50, drawn to a composition for gene therapy.

Group II, claim(s) 14-26 and 46-50, drawn to a gene therapy method using the composition of Group I.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the technical feature linking Groups I and II is the gene therapy composition generally described in claim 1. In order for a technical feature to be considered a special technical feature, it must be novel. In the instant case, the composition for gene therapy as described in claim 1 is not novel as evidenced by US patent 5,830,880 (Hoechst Aktiengesellschaft), as indicated in the international search report. Therefore, the technical feature linking the Groups is not novel and unity of invention does not exist.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species of functional substances with affinity for the virus are as follows:

Anti-virus antibodies,
heparin-II-binding domain of fibronectin,

Art Unit: 1635

fibroblast growth factor, collagen, and
polylysine

The species of functional substances with affinity for the target cell are as follows:

proteins each having an affinity for the target cell,
hormones,
cytokines,
anti-target cell antibodies,
sugar chains,
carbohydrates, and cells

The species of target cell are derived from:

vascular endothelial cells,
inflammatory cells,
hematopoietic stem cells,
brain endothelial cells, and
bone marrow cells

The species of target cell are:

hematopoietic stem cells,
blood cells,
leukocytes,
lymphocytes,
T cells,
tumor-infiltrating lymphocytes,
B cells, and
cancer cells

The species of proteins are:

enzyme,
cytokine

The species of virus are:

retrovirus vector,
adenovirus vector,
adeno-associated virus vector, and
vaccinia virus vector

Art Unit: 1635

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-25, 40, 42-50.

4. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: none of the species are novel and are well known to the ordinary person of skill in the art.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
